

49

Vo

a - va-lanche...

Pno.

51

Vo

For far too long, we're left un - fin - ished un - aware

Pno.

53

Vo

Pno.

55

Vo

Ask - ing for signs. A he-ro sent from God who is - n't

Pno.

57

Vo

there

Pno.

59

Vo

I hear the a - ching I see the hope - ful op - als lose their light

Pno.

61

Vo

Pno.

63

Vo

I want to call out, hold on a li - ttle long - er some-thing's

Pno.

65

Vo

8

com - ing bare - ly out of sight. I'm tired

Pno.

67

Vo

8

of the si - lent, and I won't

Pno.

69

Vo

8

sit by, in the qui - et. I won't

Pno.

71

Vo

8

wait for a tom - or - ow to pull us through

Pno.

73

Vo

8

pull us through

Pno.

75

Vo

8

Pno.

77

Vo

8

And now a boy from no - where comes to play me at my own

Pno.

79

Vo

8

game.

Pno.

81

Vo

8

Puts on a sword and armor tries to pre-tend that we're the same

Pno.

83

Vo

8

I won't

Pno.

85

Vo

8

budge I won't back sound the alarm launch the attack and if

Pno.

87

Vo

8

no - one wants to stop him watch him Fall!

Pno.

89

Vo

Watch him Fall!

Pno.

91

Vo

I'll be the A - va-lanche, con-

Pno.

93

Vo

si-der this my war-ning down be-low.

Pno.

95

Vo

I am the A - va-lanche, there's no

Pno.

97

Vo

li-mit to the ends that I would go—

Pno.

99

Vo

The cries of pain and an-guish of a hun-

Pno.

101

Vo

- dred cap-tive years ech-o in my ears, they're ring-ing from—

Pno.

103

Vo

— the sound, if Eng-land needs a king, look no

Pno.

105

Vo

fur - ther down the road. I'll drag the ve - ry hea - vens to the Pno.

107

Vo

ground, un - der the a - va - lanche

Pno.

109

Vo

The A - va - lanche

Pno.

111

Vo

The a - va - lanche

Pno.

113

Vo

8

the a - va-lanche

Pno.

115

Vo

8

Pno.